

How Boone Central High School Uses AppCentri to Support Every Student Pathway

As a first-year high school counselor, Leanne Blanchard used AppCentri to organize a complex scholarship process, helping more Boone Central students apply, stay on track, and access funding for college, careers, and certifications.

Background

Across the country, families leave financial aid and scholarship dollars on the table, and not because students aren't eligible. Instead, fragmented and cumbersome processes leave students and their families overwhelmed and confused. In the 2024-25 cycle, 40% of families didn't use scholarships, and among those families, 71% never applied (Sallie Mae). FAFSA completion challenges alone contributed to $4.4 billion in unclaimed Pell Grants for the Class of 2024 (National College Attainment Network).

At Boone Central High School in Albion, Nebraska, counselor Leanne Blanchard stepped into this reality during her first year as a high school counselor. After spending decades as a special education teacher and administrator, Blanchard became the new Boone Central High School counselor, serving approximately 204 students, with graduating classes typically ranging from 45-60 students.

While Blanchard's role spans far beyond scholarships, scholarship management quickly stood out as one of the most complex and time-consuming responsibilities.

$4.4 billion in unclaimed Pell Grants aid for the class of 2024

Challenge

Boone Central manages scholarships at multiple levels. About 50 local scholarships funnel directly through the counseling office, while many more regional, statewide, and national opportunities arrive separately.

Demographics:

Boone Central High School Overview

- About 204 students
- 33% free and reduced lunch
- 204:1 student-counselor ratio
- 31% math proficiency, 56% reading proficiency
- 90.7% white, 6.9% Hispanic, 1.5% Black, 1% American Indian/Alaska Native
- 90% graduation rate

^ Boone Central High School, located in Albion, Nebraska, is home to over 200 students and about 20 teachers.

Challenge Continued

“I collect all the information for our local scholarships, get it to the committees, and then announce the decisions at our Honors Night,” Blanchard says. “And then there are area scholarships, statewide scholarships, and nationwide scholarships. There are a lot of layers.” When Blanchard took over the role, the previous counselor had organized the scholarships using multiple platforms like Google Classroom and spreadsheets; however, Blanchard was open to ideas on how to streamline this information so that it was still accessible for her students and easier for her to organize from year to year without having to recreate assignments through Google Classroom, etc.

During her first year alone, Boone Central managed over 400 scholarships.

“ I honestly don’t know how the previous counselor did it. I’m so glad we have AppCentri because it puts it all in one place.

—Leanne Blanchard

High school counselor, Boone Central High School

“I was nervous,” she admits. “I was coming in after someone who’d been here for years, and I was going to be handling it differently.”

◀ Boone Central High School seniors Ciara Baker and Myah Rankin complete scholarship applications using AppCentri.

◀ Boone Central High School Principal Ethan Larsen proudly recognizes 2025 graduate Myah Lipker for her scholarship awards.

◀ Counselor Leanne Blanchard awards 2025 graduate Logan Spence with scholarship earnings.

Implementation

AppCentri entered the picture as Blanchard was in the thick of reviewing paper files and massive Excel sheets from the previous counselor. A call from AppCentri’s founder Michelle Kobza would be the start of a fresh, streamlined approach to scholarship management for Boone Central families and staff.

From the start, AppCentri gave Boone Central a single, organized system for managing scholarships.

That flexibility mattered, especially for local committees. “A lot of our local scholarships are run by community members who might be older,” Blanchard explains. “So I communicate with them about how they want applications sent. Sometimes I print them, sometimes I email them.”

Even when small issues came up, AppCentri provided immediate support. “We had a few little bumps, but AppCentri was so responsive,” she says. “If a kid couldn’t log in or something wasn’t working, they fixed it the same day.”

Looking back, Blanchard is clear:

“

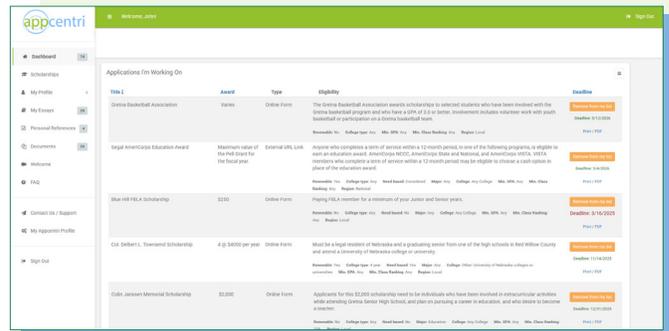

I don’t know how I would have done it without AppCentri, especially my first year as a counselor.

—Leanne Blanchard

High school counselor, Boone Central High School

With AppCentri, Blanchard was able to:

- ➔ Keep local, regional, and other scholarships organized in one place
- ➔ Track applications by student and by scholarship
- ➔ Store student information and documents centrally
- ➔ Share completed applications with committees in the format they preferred (digital or printed)

➤ AppCentri features reflect the various needs of students, counselors, educators, and scholarship committees.

Results

After adopting AppCentri during the 2022-23 school year, the impact showed up clearly in application volume and participation.

Class of 2024:

- 47 of 54 seniors applied for local scholarships
- 772 applications submitted, compared to 424 the previous year
- 81% of applicants received at least one scholarship
- Over $84,000 awarded from local scholarships

Class of 2025:

- 30 of 45 seniors applied
- 417 applications submitted
- 90% of applicants received at least one scholarship
- Over $144,000 awarded from local scholarships

AppCentri also made it easier to monitor progress in real time. “Right now, I can see I have nine applications turned in,” she explains. “I can instantly see how many are getting done and how many each kid is working on.”

Families noticed the difference as well. “One of our teachers has kids in the school, and watching it through her eyes as a parent was really helpful,” Blanchard says. “She loved being able to see which scholarships her son was working on and the due dates.”

AppCentri has prompted more kids to complete more applications.

—Leanne Blanchard

High school counselor, Boone Central High School

772

applications submitted

90%

of applicants receiving scholarships

$144K

awarded

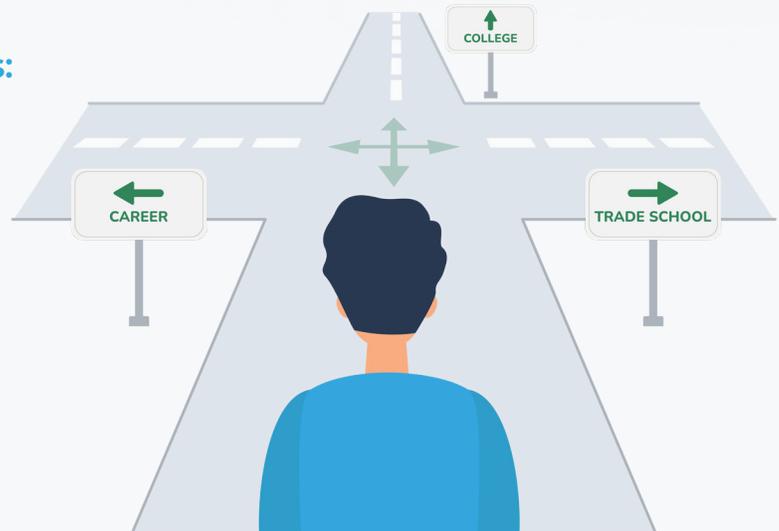

Supporting Workforce Pathways: A Welding Student's Story

AppCentri isn't just for four-year college applicants. Instead, the tool supports all postsecondary pursuits and expands opportunities for all types of students. One of the most meaningful outcomes from Boone Central involved a special education student whose plan was not a traditional college path.

"This was a kid who loved working with his hands," Blanchard explains. "He was in all of our agriculture and CTE courses like welding, construction." Through AppCentri, Blanchard helped the student apply for two local scholarships, including a county endowment that supports any kind of training, including certifications.

After filling in demographics information only once, the student was able to apply for and win multiple scholarships that covered all his welding certification courses, setting him on track for a higher-paying welding career and brighter future.

"That is something I don't think would have happened without AppCentri," she says. "He could type it up quickly, and it helped tremendously."

Moving Forward

For counselors managing local scholarships, especially those new to the role, Blanchard is steadfast about AppCentri.

She also points to accessibility and value. "Schools never have extra money," Blanchard notes. "But AppCentri is very economical for what it provides."

“It organizes everything for you and takes a lot of the gathering information off your plate. It puts some control back in students' hands.

—Leanne Blanchard

High school counselor, Boone Central High School

About AppCentri

Built by educators, AppCentri streamlines the local scholarship process from start to finish, saving time for counselors, simplifying applications for students, and making it easier than ever for foundations to support college- and career-bound youth. Visit www.appcentri.com to learn more.

See how AppCentri can simplify scholarship management and increase student opportunities at your school.

Request a Demo